VOICE-OVER (COPY THIS)

Welcome back to Cloud Town, high up in the sky! This is Episode 2. Meet Sammy the Super Storage Box. Sammy is S3. His closet is a bucket. Each drawing is an object. He never fills up. The everyday shelf is S3 Standard. You can open it any time. The dusty shelf is Infrequent Access. It is cheaper if you do not peek every day. One Zone-IA lives in just one yard. Intelligent-Tiering is a magic closet. It moves drawings to cheaper shelves by itself. Glacier Instant is a chilly drawer you can open right now. Glacier Flexible Retrieval waits a little. Glacier Deep Archive sleeps for years. Now you know Sammy's closet!

NEIGHBORS (KID WORD = AWS)

Bucket = S3

The closet

A bucket holds objects. Each drawing is one object.

Amazon S3 is object storage. You make a bucket, then put objects in it — photos, files, backups. It scales without you buying a bigger box.

Shelves = Storage classes

Everyday, dusty, one-yard

Standard is everyday. Infrequent Access is dusty. One Zone-IA lives in one yard.

S3 Standard is for things you open a lot. Standard-IA and One Zone-IA cost less if you peek less often. One Zone-IA keeps copies in a single Availability Zone, so it is cheaper and less sturdy in a flood.

Magic closet = Intelligent-Tiering

It moves drawings by itself

If you stop opening a drawing, it slides to a cheaper shelf.

S3 Intelligent-Tiering watches how often you open objects and moves them between frequent, infrequent, and archive tiers. You pay a tiny watch fee.

Freezer family = S3 Glacier

Instant, Flexible, Deep Archive

Instant opens now. Flexible waits. Deep Archive sleeps for years.

Glacier Instant Retrieval is a chilly drawer you can open right away. Glacier Flexible Retrieval waits minutes to hours. Glacier Deep Archive is the cheapest, for treasures you may not need for years.
